BLISS SAYS WORLD WOULD WELCOME ARMAMENT LIMITATIONS

Response to United States Call Would be Prompt and Inevitable He Insists Claims Nation Refusing Would Be Branded Germany Of Tomorrow.

Tells Investigators World Cannot Stand Strain of Militarism.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, January 12.—Should the United States call upon the nations of the world for "a full, free and fair discussion of reduction of armaments the favorable response would be prompt and inevitable" the House Naval Committee was told today by General Tasker H. Bliss, former American representative on the Supreme War Council at Paris.

"The nation that would come to such a conference and refuse to agree to any such proposition looking toward disarmament or at least a reduction of its military establishment," said General Bliss, "could be set down as the next Germany and the United States could make its plans accordingly."

General Bliss preceded Secretary Daniels who appeared again to give the committee detailed information regarding the various naval strength of great powers.

The former chief-of-staff formally said his association with the high military representatives of the other powers at Paris had confirmed his belief that all of the great nations of the world were ready to talk disarmament seriously.

"Our present form of civilization cannot stand the great strain of military preparations much longer," General Bliss declared. "The world war was a terrific strain on civilization. The next war will be much worse. This is a business proposition and we should determine whether there is any real basis for the fear that causes these great military and naval programs."

Secretary Daniels laid before the committee what he described as approximately complete data on the relative sea power of the three principal naval powers, requested by the committee in connection with its consideration of its question of international disarmament.

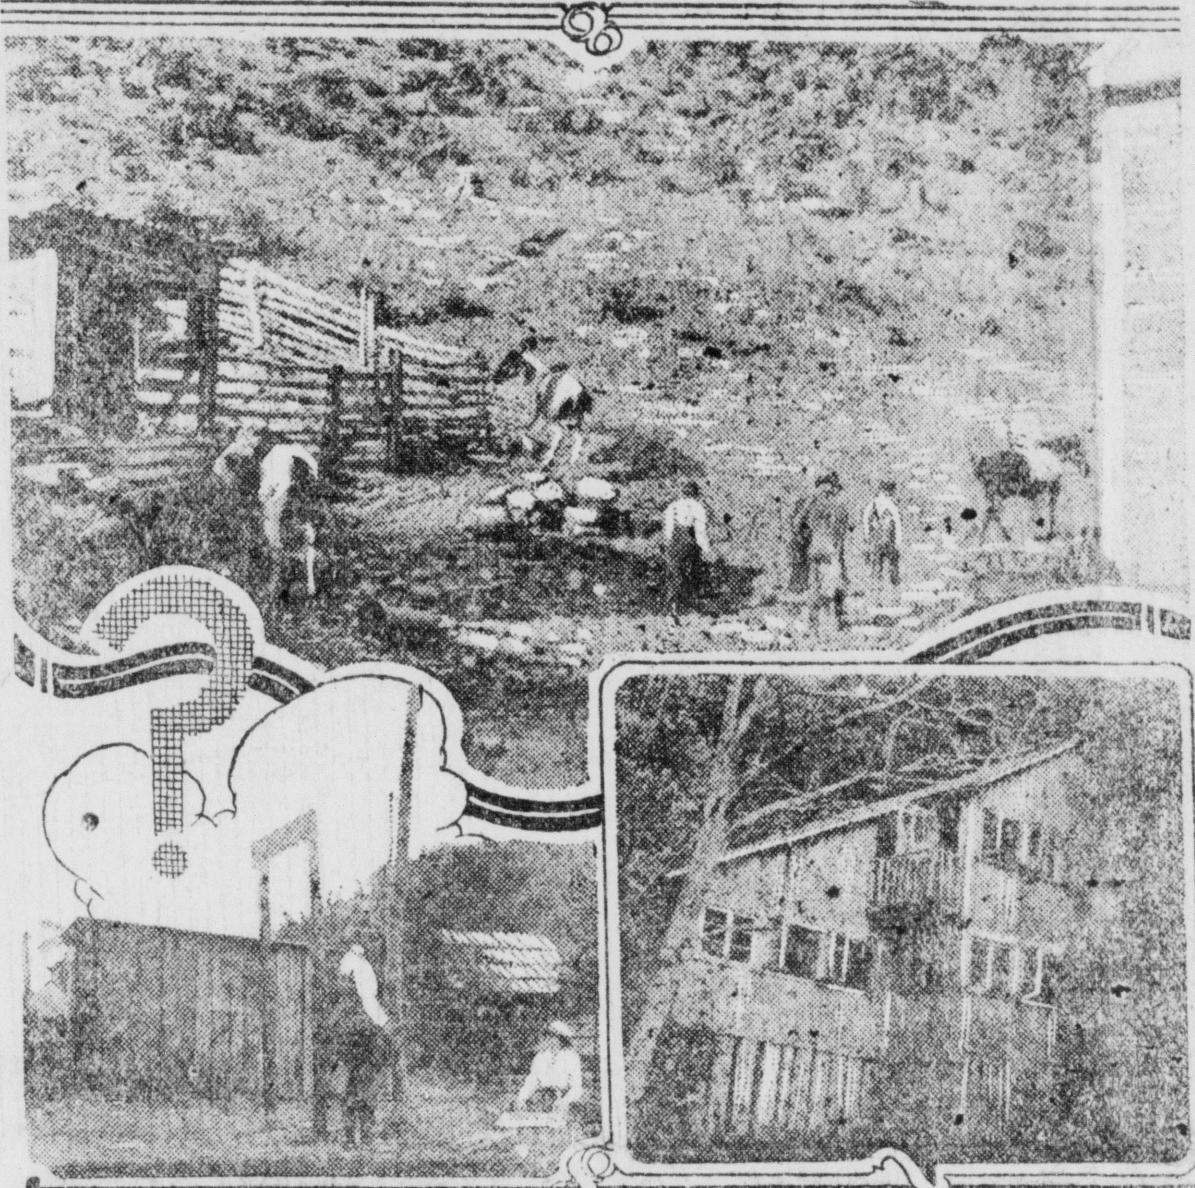

Tables submitted by the Secretary show that while the present effective fighting strength of the British navy includes 533 ships of 1,588,442 tons, as compared with 330 ships of 779,193 tons for the American navy, completion of the authorized building program of this country in 1925 will give it a tonnage superiority in the ratio of 1.25 to 1 with approximately an equal number of ships.

While the present strength of the American ships was more than double that of Japan, should the latter country complete its program for 1927 in addition to construction already authorized, and this country terminate construction with its present program, its naval superiority over Japan in that year it was said would be reduced to a ratio of 1.4 to one.

"We will be slightly inferior in submarines and will have no modern aircraft carriers suitable for operating with the fleet," the Secretary said. "That while the battleship force will be sufficient to cope with any navy in the world our main fleet would be open to attack by the enemy's torpedo forces."

Secretary Daniels declared one of the most serious shortcomings of the American navy at the present time was its total lack of speedy aircraft carriers.

WOMEN RAISE FUND TO PROSECUTE SLAYER OF TEACHER

Organization of women through the state and the school officials are aiding Harlan county, Kentucky, authorities in bringing to justice the murderer or murderers of Miss Lura Parsons, teacher at the far-famed Pine Mountain settlement school. The women have collected funds to aid in the search. The board has hired expert counsel to aid in the court proceedings. Dr. H. C. Winnes, who recently resigned as assistant state veterinarian, and Jerry Reed, a negro convict, are now held to the grand jury on $5,000 bond in connection with the murder. Winnes resigned his post to devote himself to clearing his name. The evidence against both men is purely circumstantial. Miss Parsons was assaulted and killed while working from Dillon station, on the railroad, to the school last September. Her body was found at the foot of a cliff.

His Deportation Now Up To The President

(By Associated Press)

Washington, January 12.—Formal claim to the rights of a political refugee was made today by Donald O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, who entered this country as a stowaway without passport, and whose case is before President Wilson for final decision as a result of differences between the State and Labor Departments.

The claim was presented to Secretary Wilson at the Labor Department by Judge Lawless, Attorney for O'Callaghan, and in whose custody he was paroled soon after his arrival in this country. The Lord Mayor himself arrived in Washington early today from New York and expects to testify tomorrow before the Commission of the Committee of One Hundred investigating conditions in Ireland.

HIGHWAY HEAD IS REMOVED BY DAVIS

Deputy Commissioner Installed Temporarily

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., January 12.—Governor Davis today removed A. R. Taylor, of Hancock county, as state highway commissioner and placed Deputy Commissioner P. S. Brindle, of Ashland, temporarily in charge of the department.

Announcement of Mr. Taylor's removal was made immediately after the Governor's conference with Major General Geo. W. Goethals, whom the executive had called into consultation, a plan of reorganizing the state highway department.

It is understood that no specific charge was made in connection with Mr. Taylor's removal, none being necessary as his appointment by Governor Cox never had been confirmed by the Senate.

Announcement was also made of the appointment on the state Public Utilities Commission of George Porro, of Cincinnati, to succeed Byron M. Clendenen, also of Cincinnati. The State Senate, upon request of the governor, returned to the Executive Office all appointments made by Governor Cox which have not been confirmed.

COLUMBUS CITY HALL DESTROYED IN FLAMES

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, January 12.—The Columbus City Hall, one of the oldest public buildings in the capital city and located on State street at the south entrance of the State House was destroyed by fire tonight. The blaze started on the third floor, on a gallery above a gymnasium floor from an unknown cause.

City council was meeting in the Hall at the time and members were ordered out of the building by Battalion. Nine children playing in the gymnasium on the 3rd floor escaped without being able to get their street clothes.

It is believed that many valuable records have been lost.

PLANS WILL NOT CHANGE CUSTOM

Wilson To Ride With Harding To Capitol

President Will Quit White House March Third

One Thousand To See Harding Take Oath of Office

(By Associated Press)

Washington, January 12.—Changes in the plans for the inauguration of President-elect Harding will not interfere with the intention of President Wilson to accompany Mr. Harding to the capitol, where the latter will take the oath of office, it was learned today.

Mr. Wilson on March 4th will make his first appearance at the capitol in more than a year and a half and also his last appearance as President of the United States.

Other plans of President Wilson for inauguration day also are not expected to be affected by the changes made in the inaugural ceremonies at the request of the President-elect.

After Mr. Harding takes the oath of office, he and Mrs. Harding, in accordance with custom, are expected to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Wilson at luncheon.

President Wilson it also was learned today, plans to leave the White House for the home here which he recently purchased on March 3, the day preceding his retirement from office.

Plans for the inauguration of President-elect Harding, as they stood today, provided for ceremonies almost as simple as those attending the induction into office of Thomas Jefferson, who walked from his rooming place to the capitol.

The administration of the oath of office, the joint congressional inaugural committee has decided, will take place in the Senate chamber in the presence of members of the Senate, House and Supreme Court and a gallery of not more than a thousand persons.

Sen. Boise Penrose as he appeared on his arrival in Washington recently.

After an illness of thirteen months in which he hovered near death for several weeks, Sen. Boise Penrose has returned to Washington and is leading the fight of a tariff bill and opposing the additional taxes proposed. A sun parlor has been erected for the senator at his capital office, where he can rest while conferring with G. O. P. leaders. He shows the effects of his long illness, his friends have noticed.

HARDING WOULD TAKE OATH FROM EAST PORTICO

(By Associated Press)

Marion, January 12.—Upsetting for the second time plans for his inauguration, President-elect Harding suggested to officials in charge of arrangements at Washington today that they had gone further than necessary towards simplicity by deciding to hold the ceremony in the Senate chamber.

Observance of the usual custom of taking the oath on the east portico of the Capitol building, Mr. Harding telegraphed to Washington, would be agreeable to him and would permit a much greater number of spectators to be present.

EX-SERVICE MEN WIN IN THE FIRST BONUS MANOEUVRE

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, January 12.—Former service men, backing the amendment that would authorize a bond issue of $25,000,000 to pay a bonus won their first battle in the Senate today.

When the resolution came up for committee reference, Senator Miller of Muskingum made a motion that it be referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, after Senator Day of Cleveland, its author, had suggested that it be sent to the Military Affairs Committee, of which Senator Jones, of Meigs, a former service man, is chairman.

Miller's motion was defeated, the bill going to the Military Affairs Committee.

NAVAL AIRMEN FRIENDS AGAIN

Party of Rescued Balloonists Depart From Mattice

(By Associated Press)

Mattice, Ontario, January 12.—The three American Naval Balloonists who arrived here yesterday from Moose Factory, near where they descended December 14th, left tonight for Cochran on the east bound Canadian National Express.

The fight between Lieutenants Farrell and Hinton shortly after their arrival here yesterday afternoon was described in a statement issued before their departure tonight to overwrought brains induced "by their hardships and grueling struggles that had to be endured on the trip over the trail from Moose Factory."

The statement, presented to newspapermen by Lt. Kloor, was prepared at the direction of Hinton and Farrell who mended their differences.

"On several occasions during the trip," the statement said, "After a long and tiresome walk, one or two of us would become grouchy and at the slightest invitation would make a fuss. These quarrels were only on the spur of the moment. Almost as quickly as they would start they would end, leaving all hands as usual the best and strongest friends."

Treated Royally At The Trading Post

(By Associated Press)

Mattice, Ontario, January 12.—United States Naval Lieutenants Stephen Farrell, A. L. Kloor and Walter Hinton, refreshed by their first night's sleep in complete comfort since setting out from the frozen Hudson Bay region where they landed on December 14 after a hazardous balloon flight from Rockaway, New York, today enjoyed this trading post's hospitality, preparatory to their departure late this afternoon for Toronto.

They were guests of officials of the Canadian National Railway, who provided a private car in which they spent the night, and in which they will travel to Toronto.

To all outward appearances, the bitter dispute that arose between Farrell and Hinton shortly after their arrival

ONE HUNDRED PAY TEN DOLLARS FOR ARMY STEW MEAL

Plan Launched At War Orphans Banquet For Fund Solicitation On Thursday.

American Legion Presided Over Kitchen and Stew is Served in Army Style.

One hundred tickets were sold and seventy persons attended the War Orphans' Banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock at which army stew was served at ten dollars per plate.

The banquet was climaxed when fifty men responded to a call to assist in making an effort Thursday to put Fayette county "over the top" in War Orphan Relief work.

It was a spectacular response to an idea fostered by the Dutch Tread Club and to which citizens rallied with their entire support.

As near as possible the serving was done in the same manner in which the starving war orphans in Europe receive their daily allowance once a day under the American Relief plan. Almost four score men lined up and passed by the army kitchen presided over by the American Legion and received a bowl of army stew. At long tables without covers of any kind with plates of brown bread at intervals the diners were seated. Coffee was served in real army style the American Legion had prepared the meal. Under the direction of Charles Allen, Paul H. Higney Post Commander, and ex-service "buddies" cities were treated to a taste of real army food.

Emmet Hays, veteran of M Company, 166th Infantry, in which he served as cook, presided over the big can of stew and he had not forgotten how it was done. Those on K. P. duty were Clarence McCoy, Burris Tharp, Harold Craig, M. W. Claggen and Kent Hopkins.

Twelve gallons of stew was prepared at a cost of $2.91. It was itemized as follows: Tomatoes 30 cents; beans 15 cents; potatoes 20 cents; onions 10 cents; barley 90 cents; peas 36 cents; corn 60 cents and meat 30 cents. Total $2.91. Other items cost as follows. Bread $1.62; milk 36 cents; sugar 20 cents; coffee 50 cents. Total $2.86 making the grand total for the meal $5.59. This cost was borne by the "Tin Horn Club."

One of the features that added to the success of the banquet was the playing of Harvey's Orchestra. This widely recognized musical organization was at its best and was encored time and again. The members of the orchestra contributed their services.

Makes Appeal

An appeal direct to the heart was made by Charles F. Coykendale, who came direct from the Hoover Relief headquarters in New York City. Mr. Coykendale described the sufferings of the war orphans in Europe and the attempt being made to lessen their sufferings. He declared that every dollar goes for direct relief and that eight separate national organizations are working in this country to raise $33,000,000.

Hon. C. A. Reid was introduced and said that he doubted if any man could withstand the appeal just made by Mr. Coykendale and he was sure that the proposition about to be made would be met with ready response.

Many Volunteer

Chairman M. E. Hitchcock in a few words presented the plan for raising funds in this county. He cited the showing of Athens county in raising $10,000 as an example.

In his response to his call for volunteers to personally solicit five men each on Thursday practically every man in the room stood up.

As the men were filing out of the room the first donation for relief work was handed in. It came from Charles Persinger and was for $100.

Just a Builder

It was in Kansas City that we first saw her. She was timid and very "unsophisticated"—just a young girl about nineteen years old, on her way to far off Arizona to teach school.

She had left her home in a small town in Nebraska and set off to accomplish a great purpose.

In that big crowded room in the Kansas City station she came straight through the throng, to us. For some reason she had selected us from among the hurrying and jostling hundreds, pushing and crowding to and from trains or strolling restlessly about waiting for the time to pass. Smilingly and confidently she came up and asked if we were going out on the Rock Island train to the southwest.

She was lonely and homesick but, with all her timidity, brave with the determined purpose to accomplish what she had set out to do—teach school in Arizona.

She had been told by the railroad agent at her little home town that she would reach Lordsburg, New Mexico, where she was to change to another train which would take her to her destination, on the afternoon of the day she left Kansas City.

When we told her that she would be compelled to ride all that day and all through the following night and half the next day before she reached El Paso and that there she would have to change cars and ride again far into the second night before she reached Lordsburg and that there she must stay the remainder of that second night, then take another train on the third morning and ride all that day and change again and, on another train ride until late the third night before she could reach her journey's end and report as the school marm who had come to teach, the enormity of the undertaking she had embarked upon—the bigness of the world and the limitless stretches of that great southwest—caused her a little consternation. But that consternation passed, the great purpose conquered the timidity, a bright smile, perhaps a little nervous, lightened up as the shadow passed.

A rush to the Pullman office where she was greeted with the announcement that no berths were to be had on the Rock Island train west, brought her hurrying back to us, frightened but brave.

A few words to a kind-hearted gate keeper, whose duty it was to see that no one not holding Pullman tickets was admitted to the train shed, plus our assurance to take care of her, obtained access to the train. A gray-headed old negro porter, who also understood, and the train was boarded. The rest was easy.

At El Paso we saw her go away on a big train pushing toward the setting sun.

There were many nervous questions asked again and again, just to hear the assurances repeated, over and over again, to keep up the courage which ran low as the shadows of evening were lengthening across "the Pass to the North."

Never did the bravest soldier marching into battle show more courage than did this little miss from Nebraska. She was so homesick, so fearful of that great big unknown into which she ventured.

More than once after the trees had disappeared from the landscape and the desert, on every hand, stretched out its vast panorama, did the blue eyes show signs of tears while the voice expressed the hope and belief that where she was going there surely would be trees.

Well—what of it all? It was only one of many similar incidents that have occurred and are occurring every day.

That's just it. It is one of hundreds occurring every day in this land of ours. One of hundreds of thousands that have occurred as the nation has been built and made great.

Those are the builders of the nation, the molders of civilization. The pilots who guide mankind—unthinking and unappreciative too often—to a higher destiny. They are part of a great plan that prepares the new place for the coming of the masses.

Measured by every selfish rule that little miss should have remained in comfort, surrounded by those who would look after her, in the little Nebraska town. Why did she embark with grim determination into the unknown? Why was that determination sufficient to conquer every fear as to the result?

She could no more turn back from her journey than she could have stopped breathing. Neither could those who have preceded her in just such journeys have turned back.

Sometimes we can't help thinking that we are a little careless in preserving what they build for us. Theirs is the soul and the heart of the nation. They build securely else our carelessness would soon undo all this effort.

The Hand that guides the stars in their courses directs, no less certainly, the course of the timid little builders who work for us all.

How feeble our efforts to assist when we realize the great directing purpose and, realizing that, our confidence that the little school marm would travel safely on toward the setting sun and find trees and comfort even in barren Arizona, quieted all our anxieties.

When we see how the nation has been builded and is being strengthened by these dauntless souls we get a little impatient with negligence that allows the destroyers to come in at the eastern ports.

How much less noise there is as the builders go about their work than there is about the efforts of the destroyers. How little we hear of the former and how much of the latter. But God marks out the limits for both and they attain the appointed end.

POETRY FOR TODAY

AT EVE

At eve I walked along the well-known ways
Of a deserted camp. There, a brief time ago,
We marched and drilled throughout the crowded days,
That bodies might be fit to match a foe.

The barracks stood, as then, in endless row 'on row—
Gray husks from which the merry life had fled.
All else was changed. No squads marched to and fro;
No whistling details passed with cadenced tread.

I missed the comrades who now carry on,
Back in the market place, the farm, the mines,
And those across there in the dim Argentine.
Who've pitched eternal camp on conquered lines.

When the blue dusk crept down the neighborhood hills
A sense of other loss came with the dew.
For gone from me were the oldtime leaping thrills
Of Great Adventure—the High Heart I knew!

EXPECT HARDING WILL STICK BY THE CHOICE OF HENRY WALLACE

Indications of Turn in Favor Of Iowan for Cabinet Position

Hoover's Chances Said To Be Weaker—Opponents Making Hard Fight.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1921)

Washington, January 11.—The most dependable judgment is that Senator Harding will stick to his determination to make Henry C. Wallace of Des Moines, editor of Wallace's Farmer, secretary of agriculture.

The opposition to Wallace, which has been increasing for some weeks, is fast now at its height. From now on the efforts of the aroused supporters of Wallace may be expected to count. Next week the National Livestock Association will meet in Texas, and it is predicted by the advocates of Wallace that he will be endorsed by that meeting. This should neutralize the widespread allegations to the effect that live stock men, as well, oppose Wallace.

The reply now made to these allegations is that it is only those live stock men who operate in a big way, or who are close to the packers, that oppose Wallace. This is the allegation of Wallace's supporters. I don't know enough about it to be certain of the merits of it.

Not all of the packers are opposing Wallace. One group of them takes the view that in the past their efforts to affect public matters have reacted badly and they now follow a policy of careful avoidance of it.

Advocate Regulation

The focus of most of this talk lies in the fact that there is now pending in congress a bill, fathered by Senator Kenyon of Wallace's home state, for the regulation of the packing industry. On this bill Mr. Wallace has taken a position of qualified advocacy. A few sentences from a recent utterance of his paper will throw light on his position:

"While there are some provisions in the Kenyon bill which may seem to be rather drastic, and while some stockmen are particularly fearful of the proposal to place such great power in the hands of the secretary of agriculture, we do not think there is any danger that legislation will be enacted which will cripple the packers, provided it is enacted soon.

"It is astonishing to us that the packers themselves do not see this. They have been under fire for thirty years past, and the fire has been getting hotter all the time. They can expect nothing less than that it will continue to get hotter until remedial legislation is enacted, and we should think they would be glad to accept a fair bill which will give the government some supervision over their operation."

This utterance gives a key to Mr. Wallace's point of view and temper on public questions. He stands midway between the radicals and the conservatives. On the one hand, he advocates reasonable control of the packing industry, and on the other hand he fights the radical Non-Partisan League most strenuously.

THINGS TO KNOW

HOW A PINE TREE TELLS ITS OWN STORY.
By ERNEST THOMPSON SETON.

How the Pine Tree tells its own Story that there are rare exceptions to these rules.

Of these the Pines always seem to me more interesting.
In September, 1902, I had a good chance to study pine trees in the mountains of Idaho. There was a small one that had to be cut down, so I made careful drawings of it. It was 14 years old, and across the stump I showed one ring of wood for each year of growth and a circle of branches on the trunk for each year. Notice that between the branches, the trunk did not taper; it was an even cylinder, but got suddenly smaller at each knot by the same amount of wood as was needed by those branches for their wood.
If we begin in the center of the stump, and at the bottom of the trunk, we find that the little tree tells us its own story of its life and troubles. Its first year, judging by the bottom section of the trunk (No. 1) and by the innermost ring, was just ordinary. Next year according to section 2 and ring 2, it had a fine season and grew nearly 4 times as much as the first year. The third year the baby pine had a very hard time, and nearly died. Maybe it was a dry summer, so the little tree grew only 2 1/2 inches higher while the ring of wood it added was no thicker than a sheet of paper. Next year, the fourth, it did better. And the next was about its best year, for it grew 7 1/2 inches higher, and put on a fine fat ring of wood, as you see.
On its eleventh year, it had some new troubles; either the season was dry, or the trees about too shady, or maybe disease attacked it. For it grew but a poor shoot on the top, and the ring of wood on the stump is about the thinnest of all.
Of course, a saw cut along the 2nd joint showed but 13 rings and the 3rd but 12, while one through the top joint, the one which grew this year, showed but a single ring.
Thus the Pine tree has in itself a record of its whole life; and this is easy to read when the tree is small; but in later life the lower limbs disappear and the only complete record is in the rings of growth that show on the stump. These never fail to tell the truth.
Of course, you are not to go around cutting down trees merely to count their rings, and read their history, but you should look at the rings whenever a new stump gives you a good chance. Then Hardwoods as well as Pines will spread before you the chapters of their life; one for each year that they have lived.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Hundreds of thousands of men and women born in foreign countries live in Ohio today. Clubwomen believe that many things they have brought with them are worth having. Clubwomen feel that they must help these foreign born people to learn our language and give to them full opportunity for becoming American citizens.

The state Americanization committee has set aside $5,000 for help in teacher training. Teacher-training institutes have already been established in various parts of the state where there exists an urgent foreign problem. Mrs. Jacob Brenner, of Youngstown, chairman of the Americanization committee of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, makes a strong appeal for every clubwoman to awaken to the call for good that the work of Americanization voices. "I ask club women of Ohio to interest themselves in Americanization work and to co-operate with the boards of education in their communities in forming classes for the foreign born," Mrs. Brenner says. "I want clubwomen to support a social worker that will go into the homes of these people who will show them how to maintain an American standard of living. We should help foreign-born women to keep pace with their American-born children by encouraging them to study and learn American ways."

Clubwomen can get valuable material and assistance in their general club work through Mrs. Brenner, whose address is Youngstown.

Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

Honoring the birthday of her husband, Mrs. W. B. Tooker gave a delightful dinner, Monday evening, the guests employees of the local branch of the American Railway and Express Company of which Mr. Tooker is agent.

O large birthday cake with candles decorated the table and an elaborate menu was served, the dinner hour a very jolly one.

Music was enjoyed afterwards.

Seated with the honor guest were: Messrs. Roy Armstrong, Harry Turpin, Raymond Bishop, John Calender, Charles Manker, Thomas Willis.

Mrs. Roy Armstrong assisted Mrs. Tooker.

Members of the Tuesday Kensington Club were indebted to Mrs. Edgar Snyder for pleasurable entertainment, Tuesday afternoon. There was an unusually good attendance of members. Mrs. Darrell Harvey (Helen Pursell) of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Glenn Rogers additional guests.

Mrs. Snyder served a dainty collation.

Miss Alpha Mitchell entertained Sunday evening a few of her young friends including Miss Jessie Baughn of Harmony, Miss Edna Todd of this city, Mr. Edgar Mitchell of Harmony, Mr. Jesse Spergon of Jeffersonville and Mr. Albert Davis of Sabina.

The Selden Grange met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Mark of the Rattlesnake Road, Tuesday evening, with nineteen members and two visitors enjoying the cordial hospitality extended.

A program followed the business session, music interspersing the numbers. A well prepared paper, the subject, "Grange Work in the Past" was read by Mr. Ralph Nisley. Open discussion on "Rural School Work" was led by Mr. J. L. Mark. Mrs. Fred Clemens had a splendid paper entitled, "National News of Interest to Farm Women."

Ruth Nisley favored the members with a cunning recitation.

After the program, Mr. and Mrs. Mark invited the members to the dining room, where to their surprise a delicious oyster supper awaited them.

The next meeting was announced for February eighth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Sollars.

There was a good attendance at regular meeting of the Browning Club Tuesday evening. Mrs. Julia Dahl presided during an important business meeting and Miss Irene Tobin acted as program chairman.

"An Evening with Brownings" proved to be of exceptional interest, and the members realized perhaps as never before the significance of the club name. The student life of the poets was especially emphasized.

Mrs. Carpenter's readings were selected with care, one showing Robert Browning's analytical power, the other his grasp of spiritual conditions. The reading showed that careful attention to thought and rhythm, which characterizes Mrs. Carpenter's work, and which is so necessary to an understanding of Browning.

Mrs. Troy Junk gave a fine character sketch of Browning, touching upon those things which influenced his life and his works. She named him as the poet of psychology, and mentioned incidents which were closely interwoven with his greatest production. Some little time was given to the discussion of "Pippa Passes," showing the poet's delightful optimism.

Mrs. Carey Persinger gave items of interest from the life of Mrs. Browning in a way that brought genuine appreciation for the poet's wife. Her student life was remarkable for his devotion to the Greek language, which was finally rewarded by the reception accorded one of her translations. Quotations were given from various poems which would encourage a desire to read more of Mrs. Browning's poetry. The lovely home life was sympathetically pictured, completing the evening's tribute to the Browning's.

Miss Virginia Hays contributed a pleasing piano number to the program. The Department received much commendation for the evening's enjoyment.

Friends of Ohio Wesleyan university will be interested in an account of the holiday trip of the glee club. The members visited Pittsburg, Youngstown, Warren, Cleveland, Columbus and a number of smaller towns. Large audiences greeted them at each concert. Reports from all points indicate that they created a most satisfactory impression.

David S. Craig Jr. of this city, is a member of the club.

Exceptionally lovely and perfect in appointments, was the Bridge luncheon at which Mrs. H. Renick Boggs, charmingly filled the role of hostess, to the Tuesday Bridge Club.

A most artistic green wicker basket of shell pink carnations, white narcissi and stelia graced the center of the table.

A distinctive surprise to a large circle of friends and acquaintances was successfully carried out, Tuesday, when Miss Doris Kelley and Mr. Elmer Curry were married in Newport, Kentucky.

The bride, who is a Senior in the New Holland High School left home Tuesday morning presumably to attend school, but instead joined the bridegroom for the elopement. The bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kelley of Marion township were wholly unaware of what had occurred, until informed by one of the bride's intimates in the evening.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Curry, of New Holland, and is engaged with his father in farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Curry have not returned from their wedding trip, and their future plans are unknown.

The best wishes of friends in the New Holland neighborhood and this city where the bride formerly attended school, await them.

Complimenting Mrs. Earl Householder, (Lily Rogers) a bride of a few months, Miss Helen Conner gave a miscellaneous shower, Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. H. L. Spray on East Market street.

The guests, Misses Thelma Marchant, Hortense Holdren, Lena Householder and Bernadine Norris brought pretty gifts, which were attractively arranged in a basket, and presented by the hostess to the honor guest, who expressed her appreciation in a happy manner.

Miss Conner served a particularly appetizing luncheon.

Mr. O. W. Creath, of Bloomingburg Captain of the K. of P. Uniform Rank was in Nelsonville Tuesday night, to inspect the company at that place.

Mr. Robert McFadden had as his guest from Saturday until Wednesday morning, Mr. Paul Lingrel of Kenton, a fraternity brother at Miami University.

Robert Armstrong, son Mr. and Mrs. Charles U. Armstrong underwent a tonsil operation at the Stitt-Todhunter offices, Monday.

A party leaving for southern Texas, Thursday, includes Messrs. Hays Dill, Wallace Wolf, A. R. Stokesbury, and Mr. M. L. Peterson of Frankfort, Mr. Dill will remain several weeks hunting deer and ducks, attending to the shipping of his winter vegetable crop. The entire party leaves via Kansas City, and will spend Sunday at the city of Galveston and visit the beach.

Mrs. Ullie Acton of Milledgeville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Robinson of the Jeffersonville pike, was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus, Tuesday, to undergo special medical treatment.

Full Switch Service Is Promised by B. & O. officials.

An option was closed Tuesday, by the Board of Directors of the Fayette Producers Company for the old handle factory and grounds with the purpose of transforming it into a shipping site for livestock.

VIENNA ALMOST BREADLESS FOR ENTIRE WEEK

Vienna, (By Mail)—But for the arrival of 900 tons of flour, lent by Germany and Switzerland, Vienna would have been breadless recently. As it was the government was forced to requisition 140 tons of foodstuffs accumulated by the war kitchens during the summer in order to tide over the crisis.

A considerable consignment of grain secured in Jugo-Slavia and Rumania is tied up at various points down the Danube because of very low water throughout the Autumn and early ice. Efforts are being made to tranship by rail but the car and locomotive shortage of all the countries involved, as well as lack of steam coal delays its arrival.

But for American charity the city authorities concede that Vienna's plight had as it is, would have been infinitely worse this winter. The Burgomaster, Dr. Reumann, in appreciation of the extensive American relief being afforded by various organizations has asked the Associated Press to convey to the American people the following Christmas message:

"The distress in which the Vienna population is living in consequence of the dreadful war, has highly impressed the American people.

"In Vienna children are starving and perishing from malnutrition, the sick cannot be attended in the hospitals for want of medicines, surgical instruments, dressing stuffs and other remedies of all kinds; and the mortality is rapidly increasing among the weak and old. All these facts have called up a noble-minded readiness for help very touching to the population of Vienna.

"The American people have created a number of relief committees for the purpose of collecting gifts to be distributed among the indigent of Vienna and the famishing children. The American government has taken great interest in this relief work and the American Red Cross has brought love-parcels of a high value in Vienna and softened the great misery to a considerable extent.

"We cannot enough admire this splendid assistance that was shown us in such a humane manner; our language has no words fits for interpreting our feelings of heartfelt thankfulness and gratitude."

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister. Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

LOCAL BOWLER MADE PERFECT 300 SCORE THERE WAS A CAUSE

Once upon a time, as all stories go, a bowler in this city made a perfect score of 300.

It was back in the days when a bowling alley occupied the site of the present Colonial Theater and when some people thought a bowling alley in the same class as the saloon.

The man who bowled the game says that as far as he knows there is but one person beside himself who can explain the "phenomenon." He says that there had been talk for weeks among the frequenters of the alleys that their greatest desire was to see some one make the goal of all bowlers by marking up a perfect score.

One rainy afternoon when alleys were not any too light the 300 game was arranged. The bowler threw 12 balls and each time registered a clean strike. His score was 300. Witnesses were unanimous that he was the greatest bowler of all time.

As the pin setter left the alley no one saw him gather up a black thread from the alley and stuff it in his pocket. The bowler had aimed for the head pin each time and a slight jerk of the string by the pin setter had done the rest.

MANY OFFICIALS ARE DISMISSED BY FORD COMPANY

More than half of the head officials of The D. T. & I. Railroad have been dismissed by the Ford interests during past 2 weeks, until present official family of the road is hardly known.

Harry A. Fidler, general traffic manager and associated with the road for 22 years, was let out. C. E. Davis, treasurer, was slated to be ousted.

but is still with the road, it is understood. Dr. L. L. Syman, superintendent of the Medical Department, has been dropped. H. B. Waters, chief engineer was among those let go.

Many smaller officials have been dismissed, and rumors are to the effect that others will be included in the general reorganization plan of the Fords.

The main offices of the road recently were moved to the Ford River Rouge plant, a Dearborn, Michigan, and Ford men are being placed in full control of the system.

SOMETIME or other there comes in the life of everyone an innate desire to own a home of his own. If you are experiencing such a wish now, just ponder for a moment and try to picture this home as YOUR HOME.

Out of our many different house designs we have selected this one to show you, thinking that perhaps it would appeal to you as the home of your dreams. It is a six-room house of English type. Downstairs there is a kitchen, dining room, and living room. There is also a living room alcove that you will appreciate and value because of its usefulness. Upstairs there are three large bedrooms, each with windows on two sides, which assure their being bright and airy at all times.

Standard designs of Curtis Woodwork are used throughout this house, adding that last touch of beauty, comfort, and convenience that all homebuilders seek. The kitchen dresser pictured in the small illustration gives you an idea of the usefulness and practicability of all Curtis Woodwork.

If you need a new home and are interested in home-building, come in and see us. Or even if your home is still in the dream stage, and you do not intend to build for a while, come in anyway and we'll tell you how we can help you make your dream home come true.

RED BLOOD GETS HOUSE WORK DONE

Supplies Health and Vigor to Women Who Overwork

Full-Blooded People Enjoy Life

If Your Blood is Thin, Take Pepto-Mangan. It Makes Rich Red Blood

Just look around you and notice the kind of people who enjoy life. They are the full-blooded people. Sallow, complexioned, dull-eyed people don't have much fun. How can they, with blood that is lacking in life-giving red corpuscles? It takes red blood to do good work, to enjoy life, to be congenial to be somebody.

If you feel rundown and out of sorts most of the time, if your complexion is bad, it is probably due to starved blood. When you get that way you need Pepto-Mangan. It will pick you up and put you in the class of people who stop out and do things. With plenty of red corpuscles you enjoy the excitement of life. Whether you work or play you find yourself getting things done and taking real pleasure out of life. You stand on your two feet in good health.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. Comes in either liquid or tablet form. The medicinal properties are the same.

Sold at all drug stores. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan with the name "Gude's" on the package. Ask for it by the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan."

KEPT HIM FROM WORK HALF TIME SAYS WEED

But Akron Man Says He Never Missed a Day Since Tanlac Overcame His Troubles—Gains Nineteen Pounds.

"I have gained nineteen pounds by taking Tanlac and believe I'm twice as good a man physically as I was before. I took it," said Jacob N. Weed, 189 Hill Street, Akron, Ohio.

"I had been under the weather for several years," he continued, "troubled in one way and another nearly all the time. I couldn't eat any breakfast at all and had got to where I was nearly afraid to eat anything, for every bite meant trouble for me. I couldn't get any sleep to amount to anything; then, in the morning there was always a mean taste in my mouth and I never felt fit for a thing. I went down considerably in weight, and was so weak that I had to lay off from work half the time.

"I kept hearing a good deal about Tanlac, so finally I sent for a bottle, and by the time I finished that first bottle I felt very much better. I kept right on picking up until now I'm in as good health as I used to be years ago.

"My appetite has come back in full force and it just looks like I can't get enough to eat. Everything agrees with me fine. I sleep like a log and get up feeling fine and with no bad taste in my mouth. I am still gaining in weight, right along and never have to miss a day from work."

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by J. W. Murphy and in Mill edgeville, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Orman Selden.—Advt.

MORE WIRELESS TO SOUTH AMERICA

Rio de Janeiro (By Mail)—Increased wireless communication with neighboring South American republics and within the vast territory of Brazil itself is the aim of a bill just introduced into the chamber of deputies. It provides for the installation of high-power wireless stations in the Federal district and by (by arrangement with Paraguay) in Asuncion, and at convenient points in the Brazilian states of Matto Grosso and Rio Grande do Sul.

The preamble of the measure refers to the wireless progress made in recent years, adding that this means of communication between Rio de Janeiro, Asuncion, Buenos Aires and Montevideo would be more economical than the present land telegraph or cable systems. It suggests the possibility of wireless communication between Brazil and the countries on the west coast through erection of stations in the interior states of Brazil.
